In the past, people didn’t understand that we are severely underfunded. We needed work order data and contractor data to help them see where we’re spending our resources and justify funding needs.

See why Brightly is the winning solution

Brightly’s Asset Essentials goes beyond centralizing asset management. Our award-winning software delivers a comprehensive data-driven solution, striking the right balance between ease of use and robust functionality.

“...It’s amazing to see pictures of what’s actually happening on that equipment. We can see what we’re loading and in some cases, overloading. All the additional data we’re gathering allows us to paint a picture or diagnose a problem. Every day, it’s a learning discussion with the team.
